In the meantime coal will be brought here by wagons.

A NEW SIGN.—The journals in Oregon regard the recent election as a "business men's victory." We have had many signs and tokens of the coming political revolution, but this is a new one. It seems however that on the occasion of the election the business men of all parties united in an effort to close their places of business and go to the polls. So a new element made its appearance and there was the absence of the open and notorious bribery which characterized elections for some years. The result was the business men's triumph and there will always be such a triumph when honest men who earn money and pay taxes really take an interest in the men who are to superintend their affairs and apply the taxes. We had a business men's victory in New York when the Tammany Ring was overthrown and we can only prevent the formation of a new ring composed of all the darkest and basest, because the most cowardly and secretive elements of the old one by the earnest vigilance of our business men. Let them begin now by insisting that we shall have a Mayor like William Butler Duncan or John K Hackett, and we shall have in truth a business men's victory.—New York Herald June 17.

AN UNLUCKY LOCOMOTIVE.—Engine No 70, the "Passaic" on which John Williams was killed last week, is termed by railroad men an unlucky machine. This engine was formerly the "C A Wortendyke," and was built in the Rogers shops at Paterson. After being finished it was hauled up to be tested, at the shops, when it fell down and killed two men. This gave it the title of unlucky, which it has since maintained. Its first trick was to fall through the Saddle river bridge at Rochelle Park. After that it engaged in a smash-up at West End, and in another up the road. Its last exploit, it seems, was to cause the death of John Williams [illegible] by the imperfect working of [illegible]. Whenever there is any trouble on the road, there Engine No 70 can be found.—[illegible] Republican.

He had the prisoners heavily ironed and started for Toano with them en route for Corinne. On Monday morning when within sixty miles of Toano he stopped at a spring to get a drink. As he stooped over one of the prisoners made a grab for his revolver and succeeded in getting possession of it. House, being provided with another, turned loose on them and instantly killed both. He then drove on to a place to mail further, gave the particulars and after refreshing himself he started through a mountain pass for Corinne. House is a man of undoubted reputation and is one of the most respected and prominent citizens of Corinne. As yet no efforts have been made to secure his arrest and the names of the prisoners have not been ascertained.

HOW WIRT FOUND A WIFE.—A recent sketch of the loves of the great lawyers contains this touching incident in the life of William Wirt. In his younger days he was a victim to the passion of intoxicating drinks which has been the bane of so many distinguished in the legal profession. Affianced to a beautiful and accomplished young woman, he had made and broken repeated pledges of amendment and she, after patiently and kindly enduring his disgraceful habit, had at length dismissed him, deeming him incorrigible. Their next meeting after his dismissal was in a public street in the city of Richmond. William Wirt lay drunk and asleep on the sidewalk on a hot summer day, the rays of the sun pouring down on his uncovered head and flies crawling over his swollen features. As the young lady approached in her walk her attention was attracted by the spectacle, strange to her eyes but also so common to others who knew the victim as to attract little remark. She did not at first recognize the sleeper and was about to hasten on when she was led by one of those impulses which form the turning point in human lives to scrutinize his features. What was her emotion when she recognized in him her lover. She drew forth her handkerchief and spread it over his face and hurried away. When Wirt came to himself he found the handkerchief and in one corner the beloved name. With a heart almost breaking with grief and remorse he made a new vow [illegible]. He kept that vow and he married the owner of the handkerchief.

THIS OF WHITTIER.—John G Whittier, in a letter expressing his regret at his absence from the abolitionists' reunion at Chicago, says: "For myself I bow my head in silent thanksgiving, profoundly grateful that I have been permitted to outlive the great wrong and see my country's flag float everywhere over free men. The end has been reached not as we hoped through peaceful ways of argument, appeal and constitutional legislation but through a red sea of revolution at an awful cost. The evil has been extirpated and we still feel the consequences of the terrible struggle. As abolitionists we have never hated the people of the South, and it is now our duty and privilege to convince them of this by generous and magnanimous dealing. Let all revenge and malice and evil speaking pass away, and let it not be our fault if we are not henceforth a united people in feeling as well as in nature."

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

THIRD DAY.

The Convention met pursuant to adjournment [illegible] Rev Mr McElhenny [illegible] the several Vice Presidents. Mr J K Gill was chosen temporary Chairman.

Some time was devoted to the usual devotional exercises.

The next business before the Convention was the election of a place for holding the next Convention.

Mr Hoberg moved that the next Convention be held at Oregon City. The motion was seconded and carried unanimously.

On motion of Rev G W [illegible] the Convention proceeded to the appointment of an Executive Committee. The following gentlemen were named as such Committee: [illegible], Northrop and Wm Wallace of Portland.

Rev A J Medbury was introduced and addressed the Convention at some length on the subject of Temperance in the Sunday Schools. The address was an able exposition of the great curse of modern intemperance and was listened to with much interest by the Convention.

The Chairman announced at the close of Mr Medbury's address that an opportunity was afforded delegates to express their views in relation to the subject under consideration. The privilege was embraced and a number of delegates expressed their views, among which were Messrs Talbot, Crane, Reys, Hoberg, G W Izer, Russ and others.

The next thing on the programme was an address by Rev Jas Hoberg on the subject of "Sunday School Literature," which was a very interesting effort. Following the address came animated short addresses by Messrs Glenn, Talbot, Gray, Izer, Russ, Brelford, Northrop and several others.

Dr A J [illegible] presented the following resolution which was on motion adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention recommend the appointment of a Library Committee [illegible] proposed for circulation in the schools, and that no books should be admitted without the unanimous approbation of the Committee. It is also recommended that [illegible] consideration [illegible] of suitable periodicals [illegible] books of a more [illegible] religious character.

On motion the Convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION

At 2 P M the Convention was called to order. The hymn "Come Brethren Don't Grow Weary" was sung by the members. The discussion of the order of exercises was opened by Mr E J Northrop, followed by others. Many valuable suggestions were made.

The Secretary having taken his place, the reading of the minutes from the beginning of the Convention was called for; they were read and approved.

The Black board in the Sabbath School was illustrated and recommended by Mr [illegible]. Quite a number took part in this subject. Others gave practical illustrations of its value.

Mr A J Abernethy opened the discussion on Sunday School Concerts. He spoke of their advantages, stated the usual objections and suggested how to conduct them. This subject led to an interesting and animated discussion, in which seventeen persons spoke in half an hour.

Mrs D D Briggs introduced the topic of Infant Class Teaching and Management in a very acceptable manner that called forth the approval of the members.

The report of the Committee on the Organization of Teachers' Meetings was read and approved.

A resolution appointing a Vice President of the Convention in each county, with whom the Executive Committee can communicate for all necessary information, was submitted and adopted and the members appointed.

A preamble and a series of resolutions were unanimously adopted in favor of the great temperance reform that is now occupying the public mind and urging active measures—moral, religious and legislative—for the suppression of the liquor traffic.

The thanks of the Convention were passed to the Oregon and California Railroad Company and the steamboat companies for reduction in fares to the members of the Convention, and to the citizens of Portland for their hospitality.

THE CHILDREN'S MEETING

At [illegible] the children of the Sunday Schools of Portland assembled in the M E Church. The delegates to the Convention and the clergymen of the city occupied the platform. The children very properly [illegible] the front and back seats, the friends filled the balance of this large church.

Mr Gill called the meeting to order which was opened by singing a beautiful hymn and offering a short appropriate prayer. Mrs [illegible] presided at the piano in her usual efficient style. Short addresses were made by several gentlemen. Charming hymns were sung by the children and visitors. Two quartettes were well sung by gentlemen of the city. A collection was taken to defray the incidental expenses of the Convention connected with printing its official documents. After singing and the benediction the delegates and invited guests adjourned to the lecture room of the Congregational Church, where the ladies of the different churches had prepared a

SPLENDID FEAST

For them, consisting of tea, coffee, cakes, a profusion of ice cream, raspberries, cherries and every choice thing that the season could produce. The lecture room was crowded. We never witnessed a more favorable sample of the great and good of the city and neighborhood, and never participated in a more successful meeting of the kind in Portland. The Convention reflects credit on the Christian workers of the State and the festival does honor to the heads, hands and hearts of the ladies.

VANCOUVER ITEMS

A letter has just been received by V A Schaden Esq, Clerk of City Council, from [illegible] & Gray, attorneys for the city in Washington, stating that the Commissioner of the General Land Office has written a letter instructing the Register of the Land Office in Vancouver to enter the land upon which the city is located for the city. The people are jubilant over the news. The final settlement of this question however must be in the Court.

Fourth of July arrangements are progressing. A sufficient amount of money has been subscribed for all necessary purposes, a band has been engaged, and everything necessary to make the day a pleasant and enjoyable one has been arranged.

The schools of the place are closing for the summer vacation. St Luke's School under the charge of Miss Loomis had its examination on Tuesday—everything passing off to the satisfaction of teacher and patrons. The school under the charge of the Sisters of Charity held their examinations on the same day. From those present we learn that the pupils acquitted themselves well and parents were highly pleased with the progress their children had made.

And now comes John Eddings Esq with his appointment as Postmaster. This is a sort of [illegible] between—between F Maxon first appointed and J B M Washburn retiring. The appointment gives very general satisfaction and we hope it may serve as a compromise between the contending parties.

Since the suspension of the Kalama Beacon the Vancouver Register has been made official organ for Cowlitz county.

Prof Baumgras, the artist, who has been spending a few weeks in the Hospital at Vancouver, has so far recovered his health as to be able to resume his labors again. He left for Oregon City this (Wednesday) morning.

TILTON BEECHER

WHAT IS SAID IN NEW YORK ABOUT THE NEW PHASE OF THE SCANDAL

NEW YORK June 30—A copy of Tilton's letter with regard to the Plymouth Church [illegible] was sent by special messenger yesterday to Rev Henry Ward Beecher, now at his farm at Peekskill. Early in the day Rev Dr Edward Beecher, brother to Henry Ward, and a [illegible] with Thomas G Shearman, lawyer and [illegible] of Plymouth Church, with reference to the scandal came to this city. When asked what he thought of the new phase of the scandal he replied he could give no opinion, but supposed Tilton's letter could be answered satisfactorily, if it should be deemed necessary. He went to the office of Shearman with whom he had an interview of several hours. [illegible] Shearman subsequently said he did not believe Tilton's allegations of Beecher's guilt. The usual Plymouth Church prayer meeting will be held this evening, and in accordance with the usual [illegible] a business meeting may be held later.

NEW YORK June 30—Shearman, clerk of Beecher's church, calls attention to the fact that in Tilton's [illegible] publication there is no definite charge of any kind, but only insinuations and inferences. Tilton had been told repeatedly that if he would make a direct charge it would be investigated whether made against the pastor or any member of Plymouth Church. Shearman says: "Nearly all the allegations of Tilton are more or less untrue. This is the case in the passages referring to him and in one or two instances of which he was cognizant of those referring to Beecher. The falsehood is so ingeniously interwoven with the truth as to render it difficult to separate them except by an explanation of all the circumstances connected with the incident. The effect was however in each case to distort and warp the truth to suit Tilton's purpose. He and others of the church had received an explanation in part of the matters at issue and they were fully satisfied that Mr Beecher was innocent. Their faith in him was not in the least shaken."

The Tribune editorially says: "If Beecher should simply deny the truth of Tilton's somewhat vague allegations and explain the document to which his name is attached, he would find the community among which he has labored with such distinguished success [illegible] with him against all assaults. Tilton has much to say of the reticence he has hitherto observed. We shall be greatly surprised if he does not soon regret that he did not observe it longer."

Shearman denies that the extract which appears in the letter forms part of a confession or was in Beecher's handwriting. The associate pastor Halliday says there is nothing in the Tilton letter to shake his confidence in Beecher, nor did he think the church would consider it necessary to take any action in the matter. Halliday expressed himself as very glad the letter had been published; the worst had been said now and all suspense was at rest.

The World editorially says of Tilton's letter: We are sure no high spirited and honorable man can have risen from the perusal of Tilton's letter without feelings of unlimited contempt for its author—that he is a matter of small consequence. We fear that not a few may have risen from the perusal with feelings also of scorn for the pretensions of a religion which its author represents simply as a disciple. Tilton now revives, without proving, all the imputations upon the character, in the first place of his wife and in the second place of Beecher, which were originally made public on his authority by the infamous woman whose biography he wrote, and which he prints not as a letter but as an alleged extract from a letter written by Beecher to himself more than three years ago. From such an extract nothing whatever can be fairly inferred for or against its writer, but honorable men are at liberty to infer anything against the man who publishes such an extract in such a condition from a letter evidently written with the deepest feeling.

SUNSET COX'S 'GENTLEMAN OF THE ELEGANT TOILET' IN A SCRAPE

QUESTIONING THE VERACITY OF FELLOW CONGRESSMEN—THE SPEAKER DISCOURSES ON COURTESY.

Wash Corr June 18.

To-day there was a rather disgraceful scene upon the floor about a very small matter. Fields from Michigan, the gentleman with the elegant toilet, whose ideas are as scanty as his trousers are short, introduced a bill authorizing the incorporation of a National Labor Union or something of that sort. Fields is always into some such business as labor reform, the universal philanthropical cultivation of mental economy or the like. Well, he said, the bill had the sanction of the Committee. Storm of Pennsylvania, of the Committee, said this was not so, in effect that the honorable Michigander was lying like a horse thief. George F Hoar of the Committee said Fields was authorized, when up jumped another member of the Committee saying that this was not so. At this the Speaker proceeded to read the gentleman a lecture. In all his ten years of Congressional life he had never seen so much of this sort of contradiction of the veracity of members upon the floor as he had this session. It was a disgrace. At this point Gen Garfield discovered that one of the corporators of Field's company was a Canadian, and of course that settled the bill, as the United States has no power to incorporate foreigners.

IN BAD LUCK.—Recently near Germantown a woman was scooped up by the cow-catcher of a locomotive. The train couldn't be stopped until it had run half a mile. The woman was unhurt. When the story of her escape was told to her husband he said sadly: "Well, I'll be darned if women aint hard to kill. There was my mare at Durham. He got on the track and the locomotive struck him and there wasn't enough left in him to supply ammunition to a fly. And my horse ran away with the gig and the train come along and hit him and it, and the horse was killed and there wasn't a piece of the gig left big enough to make a plug for the spigot hole of a barrel. Now that wife of mine is of no account and she escapes. It's always the same. If you have two eggs in your hand and one is bad and the other good and you let them drop, it's invariably the good one that breaks." And he looked sad and turned his chew of tobacco in his mouth and cogitated on the strange inconsistencies of accidents.

THE COMING FLOUR BARREL.—Paper flour barrels are being made in Iowa. They are said to be air tight and water proof, to weigh much less than the ordinary wooden barrels and to be able to stand more rough usage. One of the manufacturers predicts that in five years every barrel of Western flour will be sent East in barrels made from the straw the wheat grew on.

But Murtagh, nothing abashed, tries to make it all right at his headquarters by crying out for a third term for Gen Grant. The result of this is that half the opposition papers in that country declare that this cry is raised by the President's desire. Thus the Springfield Republican.

TWEED IN COURT

PERSONAL EXPLANATION REQUIRED OF THE $1,000 DONATION TO THE SEVENTH WARD TWEED CLUB—HOW THE SUIT CAME ABOUT AND WHAT IT IS ALL ABOUT

NEW YORK June 19—William M Tweed, whose duties to the public have compelled his constant sojourn at his island home, Blackwell's Island, since the 21st of last November, yesterday morning appeared in the city guarded by two deputy sheriffs. At 10:30 o'clock he made his appearance at the new court house, in connection with which his past career has been so intimately connected. It is proper to state that this visit was not of his own choosing, but brought about by a concatenation of circumstances over which he has no control. In other words his presence was required as witness, and the last of the Court, like love, laughs at locksmiths. The case moreover illustrates the generosity of the man when in the zenith of his power, and having in its inception been freely given, [illegible] is now only [illegible] telling.

When the Seventh Ward William M Tweed Club was organized the secretary, Mr Wm Colligan, called on Mr Tweed and requested his help in a financial way.

"Dewey," said the Boss, addressing his private secretary, "fill up a check for $1,000 for Mr Colligan."

"All right," answered the secretary. And he filled up the check and Mr Tweed appended his autograph.

"Take Mr Colligan's memorandum note," added Mr Tweed, and this was done, the understanding as alleged being that if the club proved a success the money should be paid.

In a very few months the elegant appointments of the club were sold at auction. The club was bankrupt. The note came into Mr Dewey's possession and he has sued Mr Colligan for its payment. The case has been several times before the court on various motions made by Mr William F McNamara, the latter's counsel. Finally it was placed on the calendar in Supreme Court circuit held by Judge Van Brunt. The trial is set down for to-day. It being considered necessary to have the testimony of Mr Tweed, application was made on Thursday by Col Spencer to Judge Donohue, holding Supreme Court chambers, for a writ of habeas corpus ad testificandum, directing Mr Tweed to appear and give evidence.—Washington Chronicle.

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN

HE WITHDRAWS FROM PUBLIC LIFE AND ASKS TO BE LET ALONE

To the Editor of the New York Sun: The following appeared lately in your columns:

"When George Francis Train was a candidate for Dictator of America he used to tell us of five millions' worth of lots that he owned in the city of Omaha, and now the Sheriff of Douglas county, Nebraska, offers for sale 20 acres of these splendid lots to raise money enough to pay an execution for $3,500 taxes and interest. Alas for Train and for Omaha too. He says he is tired of being a pauper millionaire and considers Omaha a fraud."

With this pestilential financial, communistic uncertainty shooting through the air, I suppose I ought to be indebted to the Sun for starting this paragraph through its several thousand exchanges, more especially as millionaires will soon be at a discount. Inasmuch however as it is not true, no portion of my 5,000 lots being in the hands of the Sheriff nor offered for sale, perhaps you will allow me to remain a "pauper millionaire" by making the amende honorable. He who steals my good name steals that the press have never given me, but he that steals my purse steals mortgaged property in the city of the future of great value.

I am willing to make this offensive and defensive compact with the newspapers. If they will let me severely alone I will agree never to speak again in public, to publish another book or write another letter to a newspaper.

I am now satisfied that the many strange events of my ever changing life, which I supposed I was enacting out of some grand principle to benefit humanity, had no motive higher than that thing they call fame, ambition, popularity, self or a morbid love of notoriety. I did not know this at the time and only discovered it since abstaining from all kinds of animal food.

Should the coming disasters elevate the moral sense of the people to my standard I am willing to shake hands with them again. Meanwhile I am not at home to friend or foes, simply asking to be let alone.

POSTAGE ON PUBLIC DOCUMENTS

Here is the section of the proposed postal law for public documents:

SEC. — That hereafter the requirement that postage shall be prepaid shall not apply to public documents certified to be such by any member of the Senate or of the House of Representatives, or by the President or the head of any Executive Department or other person entitled to the franking privilege when the law was passed abolishing the same. And the postage on no single volume of a public document shall exceed the sum of twenty five cents, and the same if not prepaid shall be payable by the person to whom the same may be directed and received; and the words "Public document" written or printed on the envelope containing any public document and subscribed by the member or other person mailing the same shall be deemed a sufficient certificate that the same is a public document; and the term "public document" shall be deemed to include all publications printed by order of Congress or either House thereof or of any Department of the Government. And if any such document shall not be taken from the post office to which the same shall be directed within thirty days after being received thereat, the postmaster may sell the same for the amount of postage due thereon, and shall account to the Post Office Department for the proceeds thereof: Provided, That this shall apply only to documents ordered to be printed previous to the passage of this act. And provided further, That the Congressional Record shall be carried through the mails free of postage.

SHEPHERD AND MURTAGH

THE THIRD TERM EDITORIAL IN THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN—DID MURTAGH SPEAK FROM BEHIND THE THRONE

From the N Y Times June 17

Gov Cooke and Gov Shepherd probably now see the mistake they made in allowing street paving contracts to be hawked about for sale by such men as Murtagh. There is no excuse for the transaction by means of which this swindler exacted $25,000 from a firm of builders in return for a contract in which he had not invested a cent, but which he obtained through his alleged influence as editor of a "government paper." An obscure Irish adventurer, this man Murtagh suddenly appeared as a contractor for street pavements and he was allowed to take out contracts simply that he might levy black mail upon persons to whom he was in debt. The District Investigation Committee make the following remarks in their report in reference to the frauds of this kind:

A BRAVE BOY.—The Troy Times tells the story of a boy thirteen years old, Lewis Snodell by name, who, a week ago, saved one of his little sisters from drowning, and a few days later saved his two other little sisters. Referring to the latter he says: "I don't know how I did manage. They were almost gone when I reached them and this time I had no help, but I had to get them ashore, and I did just in time."

GRANGER DISCIPLINE.—We learn that the Executive Committee of the Patrons of Husbandry, in session to-day in this city, approved of the action of the Worthy Master in removing R C Davidson of Mecklenburg from all offices that he has held. Mr Davidson, it will be remembered, announced himself as an independent Grange candidate for Congress, hence his removal.—Raleigh (N C) News.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 2 1874

THE PRESIDENT AND THE REST OF THE IDIOTS

What does the President know about the Civil service? Absolutely nothing, as we can prove by the Washington Chronicle which is the best of Republican authority. The President says the Civil Service rules can be enforced and that if Congress does not choose to help him to enforce them he will do it by himself. Now, this is all nonsense as an examination of the Chronicle will show. The very last number of that exceedingly Republican journal that has reached us has a lengthy editorial article upon the subject in which the course of Congress in refusing to push the experiment of Civil Service Reform further is declared to be rational to the very last degree. Indeed that paper regards it as something extraordinary that any intelligent person should even have attempted this reformation, and says

No one practically qualified to judge by executive experience ever expected much benefit from this expensive machinery

This is ex cathedra, and of course is not to be called in question. And yet the President persists in his perverse and most ridiculous attempt to make something out of the cumbrous and unwieldy piece of machinery which is thus condemned by the oracle of Republicanism at the National Capital. Such obstinacy deserves more than a passing notice. Whether the Republican party can be brought to believe it can not be adequately punished except by a third term in the White House remains to be seen.

But there is still further and most lamentable ignorance implied in the President's position on this subject, as can be clearly proved from the columns of the same Chronicle. The insistance of the President upon reform in the method of making appointments to office, implies that the method heretofore in vogue has not worked satisfactorily, that the purposes of such appointments have not been most effectually subserved. This can not be true for the Chronicle well says that the thing mainly to be derived is the obtaining of the services of faithful, efficient, capable, patriotic public servants and then—and right here is the point—it adds

Time out of mind the officials clothed by the Constitution and laws with the power to make appointments have required that applicants should be shown to sustain good reputations for patriotism and honesty and for all subordinate places in the different Departments their qualifications have been tested by a careful examination by a committee appointed for that purpose or by an experimental service under a temporary appointment. And the latter is by far the most satisfactory method

Some persons may try to persuade themselves that President Grant, who is now in the sixth year of his experience in this matter, should be presumed to know whereof he affirms when he asserts that there is need of a reform, and some, under the influence of extreme prejudice, may even imagine they can call to mind cases in which the appointments have been made, manifestly from other considerations than those of fitness for the office, but these, like the President himself, are victims of a diseased mind or of a depraved heart. Let such persons, and let Grant, see how beautifully the old plan has worked, despite the mad dog cry of incompetency and corruption in office. That this may clearly appear we quote from the oracle again

Before the Civil Service laws were enacted and the code of Civil Service rules were proclaimed the heads of Departments usually adopted this method of ascertaining the fitness of applicants for subordinate positions. If not personally known to them or to the heads of bureaus where additional help was needed the candidates were required to present indorsements by reliable persons who did know them, and they were then either examined by a committee of experts selected from the most capable officials in the Department or put on the rolls temporarily and thus given an opportunity to prove their capacity and efficiency. If successful they were sworn into office and permanently enrolled and if on the other hand, their work or conduct proved unsatisfactory, they were quietly discontinued or in other words the heads of Departments in the selection of their helpers, pursued the course always adopted by successful business men under similar circumstances

That certainly ought to end the controversy. If any man claiming to be a Republican, after reading these authoritative and infallible declarations from the chief organ, shall have the hardihood to aver that there is or has been the least occasion for Civil Service Reform, whether he be President of the United States, or the humblest citizen let him be anathema maranatha—which, used in this connection, means that he is a "liar and a Democrat and is bought with British gold."

DURELL'S CASE

The press dispatches announcing the impeachment of Judge Durell it appears were right in nothing but the fact of impeachment. It was stated that the grounds of the impeachment of both Durell and Busteed, were drunkenness and other matters relating to their private characters. The more complete reports found in the Eastern papers state that the charges of drunkenness and private fraudulent transactions do not enter into the case against Durell. There are two charges both relating to official conduct, one being that he has been guilty of corruption in connection with certain proceedings in bankruptcy, and the other, that he corruptly used his judicial power to put the Kellogg party in possession of the Government of Louisiana. The order specifically alleged to have been corruptly made in the Kellogg-Warmoth controversy was given by Durell at the hour of midnight and its enforcement placed the Kellogg party in possession of the State House and all the property appertaining to the Executive Department of the State. The committee think the very fact of this order having been made at the unusual hour of midnight when there does not appear to have been any great and pressing necessity for it, should be taken as prima facie evidence of corruption. Those members of the Judiciary Committee who voted for the resolution of impeachment, are Butler, Wilson, White, Jewett, Eldridge, Potter and Poland those voting against impeachment are Tremain, Ward, Cessna and Frye

Governor Kellogg, who is only Governor through the malfeasance of Durell, hastened to Washington City as soon as he received intelligence of the determination of the Committee in favor of impeachment, for the purpose of exerting whatever influence he might be able to command to prevent the case from being pressed further or to assist about the defence in case it should come to a trial before the Senate.

THE CIVIL SERVICE REFORM

Civil service once more. It does credit to the President that he declares he will be forced back to the old way of making appointments to the civil service, only it is not quite certain what he means by the declaration. We have reference to a statement in the press dispatch published yesterday that notwithstanding the refusal of Congress to make an appropriation for the continuance of the Civil Service Commission the President was resolved to continue it on his own responsibility so far as regarded the application of the rules of the Commission to the making of appointments. Had not the country heard stronger words than these from his Excellency which backed by the almost undivided sentiment of Congress and the country when the National Executive was not only committed but pledged in the strongest manner to forward this much needed reform and had not the country afterwards stood and viewed with mingled mortification and indignation, repeated and palpable violations of the rules adopted to carry the reform into effect, the present declaration of a determination to stand by the people to the last might be expected to inspire no little enthusiasm in the public mind. But it can not be conceded that the utter disregard by the Administration of the rules it proclaimed for its own Government and by the most solemn pledges to sustain which it won its way to re-election has brought the country to look with distrust if not with disgust upon every new demonstration from the White House upon this subject. The Civil Service Reform has been a failure and farce, because so far as concerned the most influential of all the persons connected with it, it was a sham and a fraud. The rotten system which it was intended to supplant had at least one redeeming feature. It deceived nobody. It was rotten and it did not pretend to be sound. Positions on the Civil list were held as a bribe for political favorites, and the dispensers of these positions make no secret of this corrupt use, but said simply, To the victors belong the spoils. That was better than the sham that succeeded it just as open prohibition is less bad than defilement under pretense of innocence. If the President himself has resolved to reform in this respect, there may be reason for hoping something will come of his expressed determination to try further the experiment of enforcing the rules adopted for the reform of the Civil Service. If not, the best thing is to give up all pretenses and let the matter go by the board in accordance with the action in Congress, till we have a President devoted less to the politicians and more to political science and the wants of the country.

MAN'S INHUMANITY TO DOGS

Several weeks since the Common Council of New York City passed an ordinance offering a reward of fifty cents per head for all unmuzzled dogs captured and delivered to the pound master. There followed an immense hegira to the happy hunting grounds. The unfortunate animals were slaughtered by the whole sale. Hearing that the pound master was destroying them by the use of carbonic acid gas Mr Henry Bergh the eminent humanitarian promptly sent word that if the practice was kept up he would cause his arrest. In the course of his letter he says

If the author and abettors of the revolting spectacles which for many days past has rendered this metropolis a scandal to civilization had designed to give a fresh impetus to thievery and violence, they are to be complimented on their complete success. With a bribe of fifty cents the idle youths of this city have been, in many instances for the first time seduced into the temptation of stealing and betraying their friendly companions the dogs

Recorder Hacket expressed his opinion of the cruel practice in strong terms. In the Court of General Sessions he delivered the following special charge to the grand jury

I have sent for you to intrust to your inquiry a matter affecting alike the intelligence of the age and the moral sense of this community. Within a few weeks against the remonstrance of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and against the expressed wishes of the Board of Health backed by the unanimous voice of the Medical Faculty, the Common Council, aiming to guard against hydrophobia, have authorized a raid upon dogs found in the streets unmuzzled. I am unable to find in the charter or the laws any provision giving them such power of ordinance. But be that as it may certain other persons who clearly act without any authority of existing law and in a spirit rather belonging to an age when women were burned and drowned for witchcraft than to the present one have assumed the right and power to kill large numbers of dogs by problematic and precarious suffocation. The reports where of as they reaching me, and accompanied by details of careless and inhuman treatment seem to indicate a violation of the State statutes respecting needless cruelty to animals beside appearing to establish a public nuisance. I therefore invite your attention to the subject and commit it to your charge

A New York dispatch of June 17th says that one hundred dogs were suffocated on that day. Mr Bergh was to go before the grand jury on the following day to endeavor to have the parties implicated in this wholesale slaughter indicted. The controversy attracts very general attention in New York and adjoining cities. Mr Bergh appears to have the sympathy of the best part of the press and people

On the 17th ult Col Thomas H Robb of Texas appeared before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs to make representations of the condition of affairs on the border of that State. He said the rancheros living along the border are constantly harrassed and plundered by the Mexicans. These depredations he states appear in no wise to diminish. Robb was a member of the Commission of that State two years ago to inquire into the facts of these border raids and is therefore familiar with the subject and he expresses the opinion that the Texas frontier has suffered not less than $1,000,000 damage by these marauding excursions and yet no redress has been given them. It is reported that the Committee were much interested in Col Robbs representation of the case, but whether they have taken any steps looking to a proper demand for indemnity has not transpired

The War Department has sent a letter to the proprietors of the New York Herald, stating that the Department has come into possession of a file of the Herald from January, 1861 to April 1866 but that certain specified numbers are missing. The Department therefore, says to the Herald proprietors: "It will very much oblige the Department if these missing numbers can be supplied by the Herald office, as these papers are of much value to us, and it is quite important that the files should be complete."

The platform of the Republican State Convention of Illinois declares in favor of free banking and inflation of the currency. This is the first important utterance from any authoritative source that has come up from the country since the veto. If the other Western States shall follow Illinois parties will again be built on sectional issues and the President will have to stand with the Eastern Republicans against the Western in making a reconstruction of the financial field

The New York Herald contains Henri Rochefort's letter on French affairs was seized and suppressed by the Government upon its reaching Paris. The alleged cause of the seizure was Rochefort's attack upon President MacMahon

SENTENCED FOR LIFE

Yesterday morning being the time fixed by Judge Upton for passing sentence on Robert Gibbens, immediately after reading the journal of the Court the prisoner was called and told to stand up To the usual question of Have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon you Gibbens replied nega tively Judge Upton then addressed the pris oner as follows

"The law has determined the extent of pun ishment to be adjudged by this tribunal against you The extent of the punishment declared by the law is fixed and there is nothing further in your case left to the discretion of the Court. You have escaped the extreme penalty of death for your crime but the victim of your murderous cruelty has gone into the presence of his Maker There is much connected with this terrible deed that was not disclosed on the trial and it is not fully known in this tribunal to what extent you premeditated the crime of murder but we do know that Chas F Schoppe has gone—sent by your hand—to the Tribunal where all acts are known and all motives understood. We know from the crime and from your own confession that your murderous hand has sent him there without a moment's warning, to render his last account and to stand as a witness forever against you and if you have the conscience of a man it may be a sufficient punishment for your terrible crime to reflect during the re mainder of your life that your own abuse of the powers God has given you has sent such a witness into His presence. It is through the favor of a merciful law that your doom is any thing less than the extreme penalty and that you have escaped the terrible death that strict justice would demand for the life you have taken Through this merciful provision of the law you have time left you for reflection and repentence, and I hope the terrible scene that dooms you to imprisonment, will be to you a subject of reflection and that you may be truly repentent. There is nothing left to the Court as to the extent of your punishment, and it is the judgment of the law that you be im prisoned in the State Penitentiary during your natural life

The prisoner received his sentence without a perceptible emotion and was immediately re manded to his cell Yesterday afternoon in custody of Sheriff Caywood Gibbens was con veyed to Salem and delivered into the hands of Superintendent Watkinds

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS SPEAK

The following communication from the Police Commissioners, relative to the re duction of the police force, was read

To the Mayor and Common Council—GENTLE MEN A certified copy of the preamble and resolution adopted by the Common Council June 17th has been furnished this Board by W S Caldwell, Esq, Auditor and Clerk

They have received careful consideration and we submit the following as our judgment and opinions

This Board assures you of their high regard for the opinions of the Council in the perform ance of its duties according to the provisions of the charter, and trusts to merit like respect at your hands

This Board is of the opinion that the laws are very plain defining the duties of the re spective departments of the city government and that there ought to be no conflict, in our opinions, as to their meaning The matters referred to in the preamble and resolution are specifically defined in sections 165 and 167 of the city charter—that is, relating to our war rant for appointing policemen and regarding the duties of the Common Council to pay them

This Board will not attempt to discuss the legal questions raised through your determi nation not to appropriate moneys and not to pay the policemen duly appointed by it as such questions would be tried and determined upon suits being brought before the courts by the respective policemen for the money earned by them. In this respect it does not matter whether you resolved to pay but one policeman or twenty Nor does this Board purpose to question in any manner that the motives of the Common Council are purely in the interest of the tax payers but you will permit us to suggest that the fabulous tales of the acts and costs of the police force which have been printed so often and circulated through the State and City for political pur poses has no doubt prejudiced the minds of many against the policemen, and may have had some influence on the opinions of some of your members

We prefer to lay before you facts concerning the labors required of this department to main tain the good order which now prevails in the community, brought about by the efficiency and numbers of the policemen

The Council is of the opinion that one chief, two captains and nine policemen are amply sufficient to maintain peace and good order in the city

This Board has learned by experience, that a greater number are required It does not signify because a less number of offences have been committed the past month or two that a less number of policemen are required A decrease of crime is evidence of vigilance on the part of the officers It is as much the aim and object of this department to prevent crimes as it is their duty to detect arrest and bring the perpetrators to the bar of justice

The work of the police force has been per formed for two years past as follows

The city has been divided into three districts from 4 o clock A M to 8 o clock P M and into nine districts from 8 o clock P M to 4 o clock A M This service requiring fifteen men and for about one year a policeman has been employed on night duty at the Jail from 10 o clock P M to 6 o'clock A M and the two captains performing duty the remainder of the day alternately

To reduce the force to nine men only would afford service in but three districts com prised as follows The first district to contain 150 blocks or 240 acres the second district 105 blocks or 160 acres and the third district to contain 200 blocks or 320 acres These com prise nearly the area patrolled by the present force By this division each patrolman would be required to travel in order to go once over his district provided he traveled only through the parallel streets running say north and south—in the first district eight miles in the second district over five miles and in the third district ten miles and to get back to the place of beginning as many miles more amounting in the first district to 16 miles in the second district to 10 miles and in the third district to 20 miles To accomplish this would require a rapid pace to perform in the space allotted to each watch and give no time to attend to duty otherwise

With this limited number those persons prone to perpetrate crimes will have ample op portunity to perform their work and escape long before the return of an officer to the scene of their depredations Hence to per form proper service in protecting the lives and property of citizens with nine policemen only the area of the several districts will have to be greatly reduced and thereby deprive a very large portion of the city of all protection from the Police force This will be unjust to a great number of our citizens who contribute toward paying the expense of the Department In connection with this your attention is called to a copy of the list of petitioners to the Board herewith asking it to retain the extra policemen on the night patrols They are tax payers and residents in those portions of the city where these men perform their duties The reduction of the force proposed has a ques tion of economy to save the tax payers the matter of $2 700 the coming six months does not enter into the controversy for it is economy to reduce the number of men five it [illegible] will be a still greater degree of economy to re duce the number ten But if we need a Police force we do not want half a one we want an efficient body of men sufficient in numbers to maintain good order and detect crime We want that number sufficient to inspire every citizen's breast with the feeling that his life and property are safe at all hours of the day and night

When the Council says it will not pay a person for services rendered to the city such person has but one alternative left him—to bring suit before the Courts for his pay Such a course to recover his money is attended with expense to both parties and consequent loss to both If the city loses the suit the costs fall upon the tax payers and the person realizes only a moiety of his claim

Thus when the Council determines not to pay a policeman for his services and he has to collect it at law the expense attending it so reduces his salary already small if successful he would be unable to support his family there with And the power of the great and wealthy corporation of the City of Portland against him in appealing from Court to Court causing vexa tious delay will deter men unable to contend from performing police duty Of such the present police force are composed who from their want of means must necessarily cease to be policemen And hence it is only for this Board to determine what shall be the number po licemen Respectfully yours

A B HALLOCK

CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT

The following Annual Report of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department was read and referred to the Committee on Fire and Water

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland—GENTLEMEN In conformity with Article 7 Section 1 of the law organizing the Fire Department of the City of Portland, passed and approved October 17 1866 I have the honor of submitting the following as a summary of the present condition of the De partment embracing in detail the number of the force apparatus houses and other proper ty under my control also the number of fires and alarms since January 1st 1873 with the amount of property injured and destroyed (exclusive of the disastrous fire of August 2 1873 the exact figures of which I am unable to obtain) together with such other matters as have properly come under my observation during my term of office

FORCE APPARATUS AND CONDITION OF THE DE PARTMENT

The force of the Department consists of three hundred and thirty (330) officers and men one (1) Chief and two (2) Assistant Engineers. The apparatus consists of two (2) second class Amoskeag steam engines (new) one second class Silsby steam engine (new) two third class Silsby steam engines (old) one second class Button & Blake hand engine one second class Jeffers hand engine one third class Smith engine one Hook and Ladder truck with equipments complete one four wheeled Amos keag carriage two four wheeled hose carriages, four hose reels, three thousand feet of carbol ized hose in good condition one thousand feet of leather hose in good condition and one thousand feet worthless—making 5 000 feet of hose in all Of the above apparatus two hand engines namely the Button & Blake and one Smith are in reserve

CLASSIFICATION

The Department is classified as follows Willamette Engine Co No 1 consists of sixty two active members Apparatus—Second class Amoskeag steamer (new), two four wheeled hose carriages and 600 feet of carbol ized hose all in good condition Location Morrison street between First and Second

Multnomah Engine Co No 2 consists of seventy four active members Apparatus—One second class (new) and one third class (old) Silsby's rotary engines two hose reels and 1,00 feet of carbolized hose all in good condition Location Second street between Oak and Pine

Columbian Engine Co No 3 consists of fifty six active members Apparatus—one sec ond class Amoskeag steamer (new) one four wheel Amoskeag hose carriage (new) 700 feet of carbolized hose all in good condition Lo cation—Washington street between Second and Third

Protection Engine Co No 4 consists of sixty active members. Apparatus—one third-class Silsby rotary engine, one hose reel and 500 feet of carbolized hose, all in good condition Lo cation—First street near Jefferson

Tiger Engine Co No 5 consists of fifty five active members Apparatus—one second class Jeffers engine formerly used by Columbian No 3, one hose reel and 500 feet of leather hose all in good condition Location—Fourth street between Mill and Montgomery

Vigilance Hook and Ladder Co No 1 con sists of twenty six active members Truck and equipments complete and in good condi tion Located temporarily on First street be tween Taylor and Salmon

HOUSES

Willamette No 1 occupies a brick building too small for their accommodation The floor is too light for their new engine I would recommend the laying of a new floor at an early day

The house occupied by Multnomah No 2 has been rendered worthless for occupancy by fire This Company has valuable city prop erty in their charge and are compelled to house one of their engines in No 3's house to the great inconvenience of that Company I ear nestly recommend the erection of a brick build ing for the use of this Company as soon as pos sible

Columbian No 3 occupies a brick building is very much in need of painting and [illegible] something through out the inside and the out side front requires a good coat of paint The joists of the floor are very much decayed caused by bad ventilation and their former is liable to fall through unless the matter is promptly attended to

Protection No 4 occupies a brick house re cently erected and is in good condition

Tiger No 5 occupies a new frame building recently erected and is in good condition

Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company No 1 occupies a building on First street for which the city pays a yearly rental of $600 The im mediate erection of a house for the use of this Company would be a saving to the city

HOSE

The greater part of the carbolized hose now on hand has been in constant service for over two years without being removed from the reels except in case of fire A certain amount of water usually remains in the hose after be ing used and penetrates through the plys causing decay Carbolized hose should after every fire at which it has been used be changed and placed horizontally on racks to dry and for such purpose and as a matter of economy I would recommend that racks be placed in some suitable location in the city for the purpose of drying hose and that your hon orable body cause the purchase of at least one thousand feet of carbolized hose in order to en able the Department to make a change of hose when required

FIRES AND ALARMS

The whole number of alarms since January 1 1873 has been 44 at 26 of which the services of the Department were required The remaining 18 were either false alarms or for slight causes I would earnestly ask your honorable body to pass a stringent ordinance relative to the pun ishment of persons creating false alarms as they tend to a great extent to impair the efficiency of the Department

The following is the origin of fires and alarms together with the estimated loss and insurance thereon as nearly as can be ascer tained

WATER SUPPLY

The remains the same as at my last report no additions having been made since then to this important branch of the service except [illegible] eastern and that as now constructed, is inadequate to supply more than one steam engine True we have several cisterns in the city amounting to thirty seven in number distributed at the most accessible points in the city At the time the majority of these cisterns were completed we had only one steam engine in the department and they answered the purposes for which they were constructed namely to supply hand engines Our late disastrous fire conclusively showed that we must not depend on the supply of water as now existing if we want to protect our city from another serious conflagra tion I have on several occasions called the attention of your honorable body to this im portant matter and it affords me pleasure that you have finally recognized the existence of the deficiency in the department by the pas sage of an ordinance, and an appropriation to carry it into effect agreeable to my recom mendation Although the work is not yet begun I trust you gentlemen will see the ne cessity of at once commencing and pushing it to completion In this connection I would suggest to your honorable body the necessity of improving the streets running to the water's edge so as to enable the department in case of fire in the business part of the city to take water from the river I have observed during my term of office that this is very essential to the safety of the city

HYDRANTS

Of hydrants we have twenty three (23) dis tributed all over the city Of these there are not more than three capable of supplying even a hand engine However in case of fire as auxiliaries they answer a very good purpose

FIRE TELEGRAPH

Our city is now assuming such proportions as to demand the establishment of a fire alarm telegraph which is in the estimation of all firemen the most perfect system of alarm yet devised and in my opinion should be adopted You may think me inconsistent in my views relative to this matter from the fact that in my last report I opposed its introduction yet gentlemen you will see that I opposed it then on the grounds of economy I was then as well satisfied as I am now that the system of protection against fire which is the most effect ive is at the end the cheapest Money invested in this direction is not only a guarantee of the preservation of our property but the means of reducing our insurance rates which is only another method of reducing taxation In con nection with this subject I would respectfully suggest that our alarm bell be placed at such an elevation as to make a connection with the telegraph whenever adopted accessible

UNSAFE BUILDINGS

I most respectfully call the attention of your honorable body to the fact that buildings erect ed outside of the fire limits are composed of such material as to endanger the lives of fire men in case of fire The manner of construct ing chimneys without permanent foundation has become a subject of national importance among firemen, and they demand a reform in this matter

CURRENT EXPENDITURE OF THE DEPARTMENT

The current expenses of the department ex clusive of new apparatus water supply erec tion and repairs to engine houses from July 1st 1873 to July 1 1874 is as follows

All wances to five engine companies and one hook and ladder company	$6,000 00
Salary of Chief Engineer	[illegible]
" Fire Warden	[illegible]
" Secretary of Department	[illegible]
Repairs to engines and apparatus	[illegible]
Total	$8,204 50

PAID FIRE DEPARTMENT

The time is not far distant when all cities will be under the system of paid fire depart ments Whether any beneficial result would follow the adoption of the system in this city I will leave the citizens and their representa tives to decide but in my opinion the time has not yet come when this city should change to the paid fire department particularly when the cry is Reform and reduction of Taxes Our Department as at present composed comprises as good a class of citizens as any Department can boast of. They are always prompt and ready in the discharge of their duty never re fusing to obey their officers when called upon giving freely of their means to protect the property placed in their control, and exercis ing a superintendency over the apparatus in their charge, with a pride that no paid Depart ment could, however faithful

CONCLUSION

I cannot close without acknowledging with pleasure my heartfelt gratitude to the Assistant Engineers the officers and members of the Department for their prompt response to duty, and their ready co-operation at all times and to the Fire and Water Committee for the care ful consideration of my suggestions also to Chief Lappeus and the police force under his command for the very valuable aid they have rendered me in the protection of property and also to your honorable body for the lib erality you have extended to the Department under my control

All of which is respectfully submitted

THURSDAY MORNING JULY 2, 1874

MAGDALEN

A mere girl
One coarse curl
Falling on her shoulder
Pale her cheek
Her lips weak
But her eyes were bolder

She no saint
Wearing paint
Daubed on every feature
Gaudy dress—
All could guess
A poor fallen creature

For no good
There she stood
No one passing near her
Space kept wide
Press aside
Women seemed to fear her

Carriage crashed
Horses dashed
There was wild confusion
People cried
Terrified
At the mad intrusion

Mid the crowd
Shrieking loud
In a voice of terror
A mother wild
A little child
Lost by some strange error

Ah twas there!
Its head bare
Mid those whirling forces
In the street
Neath the feet
Of the maddened horses

Though all heard
No one stirred
Death would be the winner'
—One brave eye
One sharp cry
'Twas the painted sinner!

Quicker then
Than the pen
Could tell of half the danger
She risked her life
'Mid that strife
To save a little stranger

And I thought
As I caught
A glimpse of her pale features
Mid the stains
Still remains
Some good in those poor creatures

And that we Should not be
So eager aye to shun them—
If we can
Greet the man
Whose wrong hath undone them

THE NEWSBOYS

A WAR OF RACES AMONG THEM

The Atlanta (Ga) Herald in much distress of mind, thus presents the situation forced upon an important class of that community

The manager of the Herald office, who from behind his tranquil counter studies the moods of the Herald's customers, has been alarmed for some days past at unmistakable signs of disapproval of either his course or the course of the great paper whose finances he manages

These shrewd hot headed young Arabs have transacted their business of late in a scornful and forbidding way that, to his calm eye, foreboded a storm

They used to come bursting into the office in a jolly, harum scarum way, their faces bright with the fresh air of dawn, and their eyes kindled in the morning's flush and fling down their shinplasters with some such cheerful remark

"Skin me out twenty o' yer best old man" Or some such affectionate inquiry as

How does the old thing wiggle to day, boss?"

Or a tender piece of advice, like

"Colonel, it 'ud be good for yer to make them locals slap in a little more o' the red-hot"

For the past week, though, it's all changed. In a stately and sullen way they march up to the counter With the air of ragged princes they slap the money down and, with condescension beaming from every feature

"Gimme ten!"

On Sunday the storm burst

In the calm and hush of the Sabbath morning two intrepid little rascals—a committee from a back-alley commune—walked up to the counter

Mr Smith, you ve got to quit selling papers to niggers!"

The declaration of war was made—an ultimatum plumply spit out.

'Quit selling papers to negroes' Why?'

Well, we're all settled that we won't run with niggers The Constitution don t sell to niggers, and their boys laugh at us when we have to holler the Herald 'longside o' black fellers Then niggers don't know nothin' bout the business Men kin cheat em and scare 'em out, and git their papers for nothin almost. You never see a nigger boy hardly ever that kin tell whether he's made anything or not when he s sold out A heap o' men won't buy from us, they wants for nigger boys, 'cause they know they kin cheat 'em out and git the news for nothin' We won't run with em You must quit sellin to em

But will it be right to refuse the little darkies a chance to make their living'' said the mellow-hearted manager

'Oh yes, sir! You see they run the street carts. They have this job, and they won't let a white boy in. You never see a white fellow pushing a street cart, cause the niggers won't let em One or two white ones has tried, and they drived em out They break his cart and catch him off, and whip him, and rock him and tell lies on him till he has to quit Now, our boys 'es had a talk about it, and is determined as the niggers keep us out of the street-cart business that we will keep them out of the paper business It ain t no use to whip 'em They don't mind it, 'less you nearly kill 'em and then the police will catch you So we fixed up to come and tell you you mustn t let em have any papers when they call for 'em, and you mustn t We won't run with 'em at all"

The manager promised to take the matter under the serious consideration it merited and the advocates of the Arabs retired As they passed out of the door one of them threw in a parting shout, to wit

I say, some o' these nigger fellers is running the boot-black business too There ain t a white boy in it Remember that''

SINGLE MEN OF GENIUS BEAUTY, AND IMMENSE FORTUNE.—It is a rather singular fact that so many of the editors of New York city are living in a state of bachelordom Bennett the immensely rich editor and proprietor of the New York Herald is a solitary bachelor though he will soon be forty Reid the editor of the Tribune, is a solitary bachelor, though he is somewhere about forty Marble the editor of the World, is a solitary widower of forty, and his most brilliant staff writer Hurlbut, is a solitary bachelor, though under fifty Bundy the editor of the Mail is a solitary bachelor though over forty Congdon, of the Tribune, is a solitary widower of over fifty, and, in fact, on the daily press alone I could certainly name a score of leading men who are about forty and wifeless

Of the editors named Bennett is the wealthiest and most athletic, Reid is the ablest and most skillful Marble is the handsomest and calmest, and Hurlbut is the most thoroughly polished man of the world I must warn young or middle-aged maiden ladies looking forward to matrimonial bliss to avoid these bachelor editors because I presume such a warning will send scores of these maidens in pursuit of them I wonder that some of them do not find wives among the intellectual ladies who write for their papers or try to write for them Such unions might be expected to provide very brainy successors to the present editors in the natural order —Cincinnati Commercial

THE EDITOR.—Some people estimate the ability of a newspaper and the talent of its editor by the quantity of original matter It is comparatively an easy task for a frothy writer to pour out daily a column of words—words upon any and all subjects His ideas may flow in one weak, washy, everlasting flood and the command of his language may enable him to string them together like bunches of onions, and yet his paper may be a meager and poor concern Indeed the mere writing part of editing a paper is but a small portion of the work The care the time employed in selecting is far more important and the tact of a good editor is better shown by his selections than anything else and that we know, is half the battle But as we have said an editor ought to be estimated, and his labor understood and appreciated, by the general conduct of his paper—its tone its uniform, consistent course, its aims, its management, its dignity, and its propriety To preserve these as they should be preserved is enough to occupy fully the time and attention of any man If to this be added the general supervision of the newspaper establishment, which most editors have to encounter the wonder is how they find time to write at all

Wheat in Liverpool by mail advices from San Francisco 11s 4d@11s 8d to average California and 11s 8d [illegible]

We [illegible] the first number [illegible] which is to be published monthly at San Francisco It is devoted exclusively to the discussion of financial questions and the dissemination of monetary matters The number before us contains an article upon the subject of interest and the rates which govern banks in making loans that might be studied by some of our capitalists with profit and especially by those institutions making a specialty of loaning money It says the rate of interest for money is a question in which everybody is interested but not more the rate of interest than the manner of loaning it It is of course the duty of the officers of a savings bank to get the highest rate of interest possible for depositors consistent with the rule of loaning only on the very best class of securities but it is not their duty to make every possible effort to keep up the rate above a fair one in the face of the strongest possible evidence that the time for lowering it has come This is a general sense But how much more is the [illegible] on the part of some of the banks to continue the policy of making one rate of interest—and that a cheap one—for the rich who do not deposit their money in the savings banks and another and much higher one for the poor who do The rule of a wholesale order does not apply in this case for fifty small loans of $2,000 each are really safer than one large one of $100,000 Of course there is infinitely more trouble and clerical duty involved in the making of the small loans than in the one large one but the small ones scatter the money most do most toward building up the city do most toward creating employment for working men do most towards making all of the savings banks securities safe and do most generally for the best interests of the city and State. These considerations and many others which might be cited should weigh heavily with those banks which have heretofore granted loans at cheap rates to the rich and exacted the highest rates from borrowers in sums under $10,000 We think the time has come for a revision of the rules in these respects and all who have the best interests of savings bank depositors at heart will we think agree with us

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—The market in this cereal maintains its usual quietude and we can expect but little more to occur worthy of note until the new crop comes in Exporters might pay $1 50 if any offered, while millers to secure choice lots would advance 10@15 cents a cental on shippers rates The Achieve ment, the only grain carrying vessel in port has her cargo secured and we learn that her charterer has refused a lot which was offered at $1 50 ℔ cental

FLOUR—The best brands of extras are still held at $6 25 ℔ bbl and are not very plentiful Common country brands are in better supply at $4 75@5 ℔ bbl; superfine $4@4 25

OATS—The receipts are gradually being worked off under a fair demand on the San Francisco market at rates which ought to favor shippers We quote good lots sacked in demand at 45 cents ℔ bushel black oats and inferior 40 cents

BARLEY—The local demand is good and but few lots are offering We quote best at $1 [illegible] ℔ cwt common and inferior $1 37½ at 1 [illegible]

FEED—The stocks are very light and prices well sustained for the season bran being quotable at $18 @$19 ℔ ton shorts $18@20 middling chops etc $26@27

HAY—Baled timothy delivered on the wharf sells at $11@12 ℔ ton loose $10@11 The supply is ample

POTATOES—Large receipts of the new crop have sent prices down to 50@60 cents ℔ bushel with prospects of a still further decline

ONIONS—The receipts are small now and $2@2 25 ℔ 100 lbs is paid by shippers and the retail trade

APPLES—The old crop is exhausted and we can only give nominal quotations at $1 ℔ box

DRIED FRUIT—Apples in kegs are dull sale at [illegible] ℔ lb in sacks at 5c. Plums with pits, inactive at 6@7c pitless 13@15c.

BACON—The trade is dull and supply ample at 8@9 ℔ lb for Shoulders 10@11c for Sides and 13@14 for Hams Those prices are for [illegible] in lots fancy brands and sugar cured bringing [illegible] cents of an advance

LARD—The supply is decreasing and rates for tins are improving We quote good fresh Oregon in kegs 13@13½c ℔ lb in tins 14@14½c

BUTTER—The supply is again good and prices for ordinary lots range from 15@18c ℔ lb, best roll 20@23c ℔ lb

CHEESE—Our State dairies are backward about sending forward supplies and importations are largely in the market We quote best Oregon at 18c common 16@17c

EGGS—Large lots are again coming to hand and cannot be easily placed at more than 16 cents ℔ doz though occasionally such as will bear a warranty of freshness will bring 18 cents

CHICKENS—The market appears to be well supplied Best lots of fat Hens quotable at $4 ℔ dozen mixed lots and Spring Chickens $2 50@3 25, according to size

HIDES—Are in fair demand at 1 [illegible] cents for choice dry ℔ lb green and green salted 6@7c

WOOL—There is a fair degree of competition among buyers and prices seem to be kept up to about the best figure which the markets of demand justify Shipments are made of larger amounts than usual at this time in the season so that no great amount is on store here Prices range as to quality all the way from 25@30 cents ℔ lb for best lots well cleaned and neatly packed and 20@25c for common The discrimination made between dirty burry and mixed lots and those of the quality first named is stricter this year than ever before in our market
